God's Love Is Here for You August 26, 2021

Tina Johnson, E-newsletter editor

Dear friends,

We will continue to worship in our air-conditioned chapel this Sunday at 10. Session discussed the pros and cons of worshipping in the smaller space rather than our main sanctuary, and the reality is that the main sanctuary is like an oven at this time of year. It is hot, and the air is stagnant, while the air in the chapel passes through two filters as it circulates and cools our worship space.

The question of wearing masks was discussed, once again. We invite people to make their own choice about wearing masks, depending on your comfort level and personal health concerns. We know that you understand the risks of the Delta variant, which is active in our state and local community and is a much more contagious strain of the virus. We encourage everyone who can be vaccinated to do so. We pray that you will make the choices that are right for you and your family—in-person worship or live-streamed at our FB site, mask or forgoing the mask. May the Lord watch over us and keep us safe.

The Body of Christ has many members, but we are ALL ONE in Him. We have different opinions, perspectives, experiences, gifts, and talents, but we all agree on Jesus Christ our Savior, who has set us free from the burden of sin and offers us new, abundant life in Him. We offer God's grace to one another in gratitude for what God has done.

We welcome David Wiley to the pulpit this Sunday as our guest preacher with a message of hope and grace. My outpatient surgery is Thursday (today) and I will be resting at home Friday and Saturday. I plan to help lead worship on Sunday in the chapel with our liturgist, Debbie Clark, and our organist/pianist, Alice Hoover. Malik Khalfani, our choir director, will play Ave Maria on his violin with Alice playing accompaniment.

Hope to see you in worship!

God bless you with joy, peace, and good health!

Love, Pastor Karen
